Swing Street New York provides a musical time capsule, reviving the very best of music from the 1920's, that era of unprecedented change when skirts went up, drinks went underground, and the music got hot. And hot Swing Street New York is, providing music for dancing and listening, evoking the thrilling decade of speak-easies and roadhouses, dances in the Hamptons and flappers in Tin Lizzies, leisurely grand liners heading to Europe and Paris nightclubs.

LE JAZZ HOT FROM THE ROARING TWENTIES

Swing Street New York is the orchestra chosen last year by the A & E Network for their premiere of the movie The Great Gatsby, an unprecedented event which took place in the Grand Hall of Grand Central Station in New York. Gatsby himself wouldn't have missed a beat - right setting, right music, right outfits - and very much the right band.

Swing Street New York arrives dressed in Twenties-style white dinner jackets and shirts with winged collars, while Charleston dancers and costumed flappers are available to provide the authentic look for any event.

The basic ensemble consists of seven musicians, with four horns and three rhythm players, and can expand to thirteen performers, with seven horns, four rhythm players and both male and female vocalists.
